LATEST NEWS FROM GNOSIS

«Scientia potentia est». This is our motto!

Perfectly aware that «Knowledge is Power», Gnosis continues with the educational plan to increase information on its products & solutions and enhance people's health, wellness & mood.

Elderly, pregnancy and mood impairment are just three of the most important areas interested by Quatrefolic®, the biologically active form of folate, 5-MTHF. The secret lies in overcoming the difficulties related to the MTHFR polymorphism, which reduces in some individuals the usual ability of this enzyme to efficiently convert folate into 5-MTHF.

Quatrefolic® completely bypasses the "damaged" MTHFR conversion steps and delivers a "finished" folate that the body can immediately use reducing the risk of diseases.

New technical sheet on Quatrefolic®: Folate & Mood

Gnosis has published a new "News from Science" issue focusing on the link between folate and mood.

Low levels of 5-MTHF critically contribute in decreasing the neurotransmitter levels and in increasing homocysteine levels, some of the main factors that lead to the onset of the mood impairments.

Therefore supplementation with Quatrefolic®, the "innovative" folate, may be useful for protection against mood impairment. Quatrefolic® crosses the "blood-brain barrier" (BBB) and enters the central nervous system where it sustains the release of monoamines neurotransmitters - serotonin, norepinephrine and dopamine - with mood enhancement effect.
